

Professor in Public Archaeology

Faculté des arts et des sciences / Département d'anthropologie

Job description

The Département d'anthropologie is seeking applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in public archaeology (which includes community-based, collaborative, indigenous, engaged, citizen and participatory approaches). The new professor will be able to theorise public archaeology on a global scale, and create a programme of research, practice and teaching based in the greater Montréal region.

Responsibilities

The appointed candidate will be expected to teach at all three levels of the curriculum, supervise graduate students, engage in ongoing research and publication, and contribute to the academic life and reputation of the University. The successful candidate will have to teach at least two specialised courses in public archaeology (undergraduate and Master's levels), establish collaborations with local and regional stakeholders, and integrate the public in a participatory archaeology.

Requirements

- Ph.D. in anthropology or equivalent. The successful candidate will be expected to have the Ph.D. degree completed by the starting date.
- Strong research record in the field of public archaeology
- Aptitude for teaching at undergraduate and graduate levels
- Proficiency in the French language*

Information about the position

Posting number	FAS 09-17 / 9
Deadline	Until November 6 th , 2017 inclusively
Treatment	The Université de Montréal offers competitive salaries and a full range of benefits.
Starting date	On or after June 1 st , 2018

Application

- The application must include the following documents:
 - a cover letter
 - a curriculum vitæ
 - copies of recent publications and research
 - a statement for the development of an integrated programme of research, practice and teaching based in a new public archaeology laboratory located in the tourist and administrative centre of Old Montréal. If previous or ongoing research are based elsewhere in the world, the statement should indicate its proposed continuity with the present position.
- Three letters of recommendation are also to be sent directly to the department chair by the referees.

Application and letters of recommendation must be sent to the chair of the Département d'anthropologie at the following address:

M. Guy Lanoue, directeur
Département d'anthropologie
Faculté des arts et des sciences
Université de Montréal
C. P. 6128, succursale Centre-ville
Montréal (QC) H3C 3J7

or in digital format to the following e-mail address: anthro@umontreal.ca. Nonetheless, paper copies of all materials should also be mailed as quickly as possible.

For more information about the Department, please consult its Web site at:
<http://anthropo.umontreal.ca/accueil/>.

 Language Policy: Université de Montréal is a Québec university with an international reputation. French is the language of instruction. To renew its teaching faculty, the University is intensively recruiting the world's best specialists. In accordance with the institution's language policy, Université de Montréal provides support for newly-recruited faculty to attain proficiency in French [http://secretariatgeneral.umontreal.ca/fileadmin/user_upload/secretariat/doc_officiels/reglements/administration/adm10-34_politique-linguistique.pdf].

Confidentiality

The Université de Montréal application process allows all regular professors in the Department to have access to all documents unless the applicant explicitly states in her or his cover letter that access to the application should be limited to the selection committee. This restriction on accessibility will be lifted if the applicant is invited for an interview.

Equal Access Employment Program

Through its Equal Access Employment Program, Université de Montréal invites women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnical minorities, as well as persons with disabilities to apply. During the recruitment process, our selection tools will be adapted to meet the needs of people with disabilities who request it. Be assured of the confidentiality of this information.

Université de Montréal is committed to the inclusion and the diversity of its staff and also encourages people of all sexual and gender identities to apply.

Immigration Requirements

We invite all qualified candidates to apply at UdeM. However, in accordance with immigration requirements in Canada, please note that priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Faire carrière à l'UdeM : aider la société, relever des défis et être considéré